

The pnostication of maister Iasp Iact

practised in the towne of Antuerpe: for 10 the yere of our lord. M. D. xx.

Albeit that many men haue written pnostications for this present yere: amonge whose writtingis I haue red the pnostication of maister Iasp. I. Whiche I haue translated for. ii. causes. One bycause he is knowen of olde for an expert maist in that sciēce. Another bycause many thyngis proued true that he touched the laste yere in his pnostic. In the whiche I haue left out part of an objection that he maketh ageynst a certē mā / Whiche is a disorder of pnosticating. and in the sayd apologia / he beginneth in many authoꝝ sayengis / many probations / and diuers conclusions: the whiche thyng I omitt / bycause it is nat effectual to our purpose / but noyous & tedious to them that shal rede it: but almoche as is necessary and requisite I haue put in as foloweth.

For a iugement of this yere. M. D. xx. first I behold p principal significatours / whiche be the eclipsis of the son & mone / of whom the eclips of the son was first. Anno dñi. M. D. xlii. in the. xxi. degree of gemini. Whose effect yet runneth. The other of the mone in Aoueb last passed in p xlii. degree of Taurus. Whose significatours be Venus and Saturne with Mars. and the coniunctions & oppositions shal be the effect of these eclipsis: and other constellacions reynnyng this yere. After which consideration Mars with Mercur be significatours of p eclips of the son. and Ven^{us} with Saturne be principal significatours of the mone.

The general disposicion of this yere.

This yere about p reynnyng shal be moyst & temperatly cold after the nature of the tyme / With hayle and furdres soone after frost nat long durynge / With sodayne murders / With tempest and earth quake in some places for p some / and after it shal be naturally temperate: as it shal apper in
